Stuart is a consultant in the private clients and tax team.

Stuart acts for a wide variety of clients based all over the world. Areas of particular specialism include succession planning and family governance, helping entrepreneurs with structuring both before and after liquidity events, investment taxation, the fast-changing landscape for non-UK domiciliaries living in the UK, and trust law.

Stuart's client base includes both first generation entrepreneurs and subsequent generations, and he enjoys getting to the heart of what really matters to a family and helping the family achieve their goals.

Career highlights include acting as an expert witness in a landmark international divorce case, being part of the Judging Panel for the STEP Awards, and also being a member of the Alternative Investment Management Association.

Stuart has been ranked in the leading directories for many years as an expert in his field, and was formerly the European head of the Funds, Investments, and Tax Group at Withers.

Talks

Stuart has had many speaking engagements over the years. Particular highlights include speaking about themes in global taxation at the STEP Canada Conference in 2023, and a presentation in Florida in relation to the taxation of alternative investments.
