Amalie is a senior associate in the private property team.

She has experience in working across a broad type of residential property work from historical listed building to new build properties both in and outside London. In addition Amalie acts for overseas investors in connection with leasehold and freehold purchases. Her work also includes acting for clients in relation to their mortgage lending matters.

As Amalie is Danish she often assist the Scandinavian sellers and buyers as they find the comfort of having complex matters explained in their native languages.
