Justin is an associate in the corporate team.

Justin services clients that include founders and entrepreneurs, startups and early-stage companies through to large private companies, as well as high net worth individuals, creatives, talent and their advisers.

His corporate experience includes M&A transactions, equity investments in private companies, corporate reorganisations and other transactions, as well as advising on corporate governance and general business and company law, in sectors that span across sport, brands, fashion, manufacturing and technology amongst others.

After originally qualifying in Australia and relocating to London, Justin was drawn to Withers given the firm's focus on clients that have in common an entrepreneurial spirit and curiosity about the world and how it could be different, as well as our role as a firm in understanding each client's vision, ideas and motivation and helping bring them to life.
